Top of the Tower was built and furnished for the CEO and Board of Directors of Bell Atlantic back when Three Logan Square, formerly known as the Bell Atlantic Tower, was their world headquarters. There is not a more exquisite corporate meeting and conference venue around. Top of the Tower's four rooms occupy the very top, 50th and 51st floors of one of Philadelphia's premier addresses in the heart of Logan Square.

These rooms afford a unique ambiance for corporate meetings, conferences and receptions. Stunning 270 degree sky views greet you...rich cherry wood finishes surround you...and you'll enjoy the ultimate in privacy as no two rooms are closer than ½ a city block from the other.

Top of the Tower accommodates meetings of various shapes and sizes, from classroom to theatre, in an atmosphere that is sophisticated yet relaxed. With visions of clouds and the city skyline beyond, minds become open and productive. Let our skilled meeting planners guide you to create the desired environment for your next meeting.
